Urgent Insurance Request

Holding Insurance cover over your Life and Income gives you comfort at some of the most challenging times.

It is important that you are familiar with the terms and conditions of the insurance policy under which you are covered as well as how the premiums charged to hold that cover are calculated. A key factor that can impact your ability to successfully claim a benefit under the policy and the cost of your insurance cover, is your Occupation.

Please turn over for more information ->

Hazardous Occupations

The insurance policy that provides your cover may have exclusions or conditions on that cover if you are considered to be working in a hazardous occupation. Should you be working in a hazardous occupation this may affect your ability to successfully claim should the need arise. Knowing how the insurance policy treats hazardous occupations and how your own occupation may be assessed could impact your decision to hold and pay for your insurance cover in the Fund.

 Occupation Ratings

Occupation Ratings are quite often used in the calculation of your insurance premiums. The premium that you pay may be different dependant on what Occupation Rating we have recorded on your account e.g.: Blue Collar, White Collar, Professional etc.

Should we have the wrong Occupation Rating recorded on your account, you may be charged more for your cover than you need to pay.

 Completing regular reviews of your Insurance Cover

Information regarding premium rates and the insurance benefits available to you can be found in the Fund's Insurance Guide available on the Fund's website at <https://www.onesuper.com>.

Reviewing the occupation tables including the explanations on each of the different occupation types and premium examples will help you to understand the insurance you hold, and whether it is suitable for you. In reviewing the occupation tables, please also consider if there are any hazardous exclusions applicable for your cover in the Fund, which may affect your ability to claim, and whether you should hold insurance cover.

 Your current Insurance information

For relevant members you will shortly be receiving your 2022 Annual Statement. For those members with insurance cover the information is shown on page 2. This information will include the type of cover you have, the amount of cover you hold at 30 June 2022, and your current occupation rating shown on your Account with the Fund.

It is important that you review this information and update the information as soon as possible if it is incorrect or out of date.
